Your personal data will be deleted as soon as they are no longer required to achieve the purpose for which they were collected. As a rule, this happens after the end of your session by closing the browser.

b. Opposition and removal option

Cookies are stored on your computer and transmitted from there to our website. You have the option of deactivating the storage and transmission of cookies or restricting the transmission by changing the settings in your Internet browser. You can also delete saved cookies there. We would like to point out at this point that if you deactivate or restrict cookies, not all functions of our website may be available to you.

4. Contact form and contact via email

If you send us a request via our contact form or by email, your personal data from and for this request, including your contact details, will be processed for the purpose of answering your request. The legal basis for this is our legitimate interest in answering your request in accordance with Article 6 (1) (f). EU GDPR.

You have the right to object to the processing of your personal data in relation with your contact with us with future effect. However, we will then no longer be able to process your request any further.

We delete your personal data in connection with your establishment of contact when the request has been finally processed or you have objected to further processing and there are no legal retention rights and retention obligations.

5. Rights of the data subject

If your personal data is processed by us, you are a data subject within the meaning of the EU GDPR and, according to the law, you have the following data subject rights towards us:

a. Right of access (Art. 15 EU GDPR)

You can request confirmation from us as to whether personal data relating to you will be processed by us. If this is the case, you can request information from us about the following information:

- the purposes for which the personal data are processed;
- the types of personal data that are processed;
- the recipients or the categories of recipients to whom your personal data have been disclosed or are still being disclosed;
- the planned duration of the storage of your personal data or, if specific information on this is not possible, criteria for determining the storage duration;
- the rights to which you are entitled in this case: the right to correct or delete your personal data, the right to restrict processing by us or the right to object to this processing;
- the right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority.
- all available information about the origin of the data if the personal data are not collected from you;
- whether there is a procedure for automated decision-making including profiling in accordance with Art. 22 Para. 1 and 4 EU GDPR and, at least in these cases, meaningful information about the logic involved and the scope and intended effects of such processing for you.
- whether the personal data concerning you will be transmitted to a third country or to an international organization. In this context, you can request to be informed about the appropriate guarantees according to Art. 46 EU GDPR to be informed in connection with the transfer. Please see below for more information about your rights.;

b. Right to rectification (Art. 16 EU GDPR)

You have a right to correction and / or completion towards us if your processed personal data is incorrect or incomplete. We have to make the correction immediately.

c. Right to restriction of processing (Art. 18 EU GDPR)

Under the following conditions, you can request that the processing of your personal data be restricted if:

- you dispute the correctness of the personal data concerning you for a period of time that enables us to check the correctness of the personal data;
- the processing is unlawful and you refuse to delete the personal data and instead request the restriction of the use of the personal data;
- we no longer need the personal data for processing purposes, but you need them to assert, exercise or defend your legal claims, or
- You have lodged an objection to the processing in accordance with Article 21 (1) EU GDPR and it has not yet been determined whether our legitimate reasons outweigh your reasons.

If the processing of your personal data has been restricted, this data - apart from its storage - may only be used with your consent or to assert, exercise or defend legal claims or to protect the rights of another natural or legal person or for reasons of an important public interest of the Union or a Member State.

Has the processing been restricted according to the above? Restricted requirements, we will inform you before the restriction is lifted.

- The personal data concerning you have been processed unlawfully.

- The deletion of your personal data is necessary to fulfill a legal obligation under Union law or the law of the member states to which we are subject.

- The personal data relating to you was collected in relation to the information society services offered in accordance with Art. 8 Para. 1 EU GDPR.

ii. Exceptions

The right to deletion does not exist if processing is necessary

- to exercise the right to freedom of expression and information;

- to fulfill a legal obligation that requires processing under the law of the Union or of the member states to which we are subject, or to perform a task that is in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority that has been assigned to us;

- for reasons of public interest in the area of public health in accordance with Art. 9 Para. 2 lit. h and i as well as Art. 9 Para. 3 EU GDPR;

- for archiving purposes in the public interest, scientific or historical research purposes or for statistical purposes acc. Art. 89 Para. 1 EU GDPR, insofar as the law mentioned under section a) is likely to make the realization of the objectives of this processing impossible or seriously impair it, or - for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.

e. Right to information (Art. 19 EU GDPR)

If you have asserted the right to correction, deletion or restriction of processing against us, we are obliged to notify all recipients to whom the personal data concerning you have been disclosed of this correction or deletion of the data or restriction of processing, unless this is the case turns out to be impossible or involves a disproportionate effort. You have the right to be informed about these recipients by us.

f. Right of data portability (Art. 20 EU GDPR)

You have the right to receive the personal data concerning you that you have provided to us in a structured, common and machine-readable format. In addition, you have the right to transfer this personal data, which has been provided to us, to another Controller without hindrance from us, provided that

- the processing is based on consent in accordance with Art. 6 para. 1 lit. a EU GDPR or Art. 9 Para. 2 lit. a EU GDPR or on a contract in accordance with Art. 6 para. 1 lit. b EU GDPR is based and

- the processing is carried out using automated procedures. When exercising this right, you also have the right to have your personal data transmitted directly from us to another controller, insofar as this is technically feasible. This must not impair the freedoms and rights of other people. The right to data portability does not apply to the processing of personal data that is necessary for the performance of a task that is in the public interest or takes place in the exercise of official authority that has been assigned to us.

If you object to processing for direct marketing purposes, your personal data will no longer be processed for these purposes. Regardless of Directive 2002/58 / EC, you have the option, in connection with the use of information society services, to exercise your right of objection by means of automated procedures in which technical specifications are used.

H. Right to withdraw the declaration of consent under data protection law

You have the right to revoke your data protection declaration of consent at any time for the future. Revoking your consent does not affect the legality of the processing carried out on the basis of your consent up to the point of revocation.

i. Automated decision in individual cases including profiling (Art. 22 EU GDPR) We do not carry out profiling or any other automated decision in individual cases with or on the basis of your personal data,

j. Right to complain to a supervisory authority

Without prejudice to any other administrative or judicial remedy, you have the right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority, in particular in the member state of your place of residence, your place of work or the place of the alleged infringement, if you are of the opinion that the processing of your personal data is against violates the EU GDPR.

The competent supervisory authority for us is: The State Commissioner of Baden Württemberg for Data Protection and Freedom of Information Koenigstrasse 10 a D- 70173 Stuttgart Email: poststelle@lfdi.bwl.de / Tel. +49 711 615541-0 The supervisory authority to which you have lodged a complaint will inform you of the status and the results of the complaint, including the possibility of a judicial remedy in accordance with Art. 78 EU GDPR.

6. Data security

We use appropriate technical and organizational measures to protect the data you have made available to us from manipulation, loss, destruction or unauthorized access. We are constantly revising our security measures in line with technological developments.

7. Recipient

We only pass on your personal data to external third parties if this is necessary to process or process your request, if there is another legal permission or if we have your consent for this. External recipients can in particular be service providers that we use to provide services, for example in the areas of technical infrastructure and maintenance of our website. Such processors are carefully selected by us and regularly checked. They may only use the data for the purposes specified by us and in accordance with our instructions. If data is transferred to offices whose registered office or the place of data processing is not located in a member state of the European Union or in another signatory to the Agreement on the European Economic Area, we ensure that, outside of legally permitted exceptional cases, with the recipient either there is an adequate level of data protection or you have given your consent to the data transfer.
